ACEP/CSPS is pleased to acknowledge the reception of a grant from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada under the Council's Program of Attendance Grants to Scholarly Associations.

Pour les années 1984/85 et 1985/86 nous sommes assurés de recevoir et l'aide aux sociétés savantes (Aid to Scholarly Associations) et les subventions de voyage aux sociétés savantes (Attendance Grants to Scholarly Associations). Mais en 1986/87 notre Association sera soumise à une évaluation.

Quelques nouvelles -

- . En date du 24 février 1984 notre Association est devenue membre de la Corporation canadienne des sciences religieuses (CCSR) qui publie la revue SR (Studies in Religion/Sciences religieuses) et ses diverses collections. Nous élirons à Guelph un représentant au Conseil d'administration de la CCSR.
- . Have you answered the SR Review Questionnaire and returned it to the Secretary?
- . Our relations with the North American Patristic Society (NAPS) are becoming closer. Johanne McWilliams-Dewart is now serving on the Board of Directors of NAPS. Joseph F. Kelly (Cleveland), NAPS Secretary-Treasurer, will participate in our annual meeting in Guelph and present a paper.
- . The revision of our Directory progresses at a very discrete pace. Did you forget to send your updated coordinates to the Secretary?
- . New volumes in the "Ancient Christian Writers" series. You can purchase all 44 volumes (Paulist Press, 545 Island Road, Ramsey, NJ 07446) for $439. plus a bookcase valued at $50. So you save $109. if you order the whole set instead of buying the individual volumes.

A Call for Papers:

Computers and the Humanities:

Special Issue on Canadian Activities

At the invitation of Professor Joseph Raben, editor of Computers and the Humanities, one of the 1985 numbers of this journal will be a special issue devoted to activities in Canada. The guest editor will be Paul Bratley of the Université of Montréal. Papers for this special issue are invited from colleagues working in Canada on computing and the humanities, and from colleagues elsewhere whose work has a particular bearing on Canadian studies.

All submitted papers will be refereed before acceptance. Potential authors are invited to consult the "Information for Contributors" inside the back cover of a current issue of the journal. In particular, papers are acceptable in either English or French.

Please submit possible contributions to this special issue before 30th June 1984 to the guest editor:
